The Invitations for Applications are directed at experienced individuals from diverse backgrounds wishing to contribute to the setting of international audit, assurance, and ethics standards in the public interest. High-quality international audit, assurance, and ethics standards enhance the quality and reliability of information investors use to make capital allocation decisions and benefit stakeholders across the financial and non-financial reporting ecosystem.

The third nominations cycle, led by the SSB NomCo, aims to continue the progress made to enhance the multi-stakeholder composition of the IAASB and the IESBA, including in terms of geographic, gender and experiential diversity.

Experienced individuals that meet the targeted profiles as described in the Invitations for Applications are invited to apply online through the applications portal. The application period will be open until 9 February 2024.
